

Hennock Pupil's Bullying Policy

Hennock pupils came together to write our own Bullying Policy – Here is what we think.

We think bullying is: When someone repetitively calls someone names, says mean things or hurts them. It happens more than once and can involve more than one person.

What different types of bullying are there?

Verbal, physical, emotional and even cyber bullying where people use phones or the internet to bully,

Tell someone you trust.

How can the school prevent bullying happening?

Make sure all the children know they must be kind to each other.

Talk to the bully and the victims and make sure the parents know what has been happening.

Discuss feelings in class and thinking about others.

Tell them off and give the bully a detention.

What can you do about bullying?

It is important to tell people that you trust – like a teacher, parents or trusted adults.

If you see someone being bullied, try to help them.

If you see someone being a bully, remind them to be kind and think of other people's feelings. Then tell a teacher.

What should happen to someone who is being bullied?

A teacher or another adult should talk to them and help them to forget about what has happened to them.

Try to make them feel happy again.

Make sure their parents know.

Maybe the bully needs help too.

What should happen to someone who is bullying other pupils?

Mrs Clarke should tell their parents and they should miss play for two weeks.

They should talk to someone in the ELSA room to discuss their feelings and see if they can understand why they might be doing or saying things that aren't kind.
